Jessica

So what brings you home?

Jordan

Just came home for lunch.

Jessica

You know, I've noticed ever since we moved from Austin, you've been coming home for lunch a lot.

Jordan

That's because you're home now. You know what I noticed? Ever since you quit the paper to become a writer, you sit on that couch a lot.

Jessica

I'm a writer. I never just "Sit on the couch". (Points to head) The wheels are always turning.

Jordan

Anyway, I had to come home. A vet's office is not the best place to eat lunch. You ever try to eat a tuna sandwich in front of a bunch of cats about to have surgery. Talk about guilt.

Jessica

Yeah, that's cruel and unusual.
